Art. 6 - REGULATION OF NOISE LEVELS ON EXHIBITION PREMISES

6.1 Participants are not normally allowed to use devices for reproducing music and sounds. Any exceptions must be authorized by the Organizer and do not exempt the Participant from complying, at his own expense, with the provisions of current laws on copyright, for which he must assume all responsibility.

6.2 All companies taking part that intend to install and use sound systems in their exhibition space are required to submit a special request to the Organizer using the appropriate channels or forms. The use of sound systems and equipment, including, but not limited to, microphones, loudspeakers, and similar devices, must be in compliance with sound levels that do not disturb the activities of other Participants and that ensure conditions suitable for the smooth conduct of commercial activities. In any event, the sound emission levels must comply with the limits required by current legislation, with particular reference to Legislative Decree no. 81 of April 9, 2008, Title VIII, Chapter II. The request must be sent via email to progetti.rn@iegexpo.it at least 15 days prior to the official setup start date. In any case, the Organizer sets maximum permissible limits of 80 dB(A) for Lex,8h and 110 dB(C) for Lpeak. Please note that the sound amplification system must be separate from the system used to operate the lights and other equipment; furthermore, the speakers must be directed toward the inside of the stand and not toward the outside.

6.3 The Organizer may require an Participant (through written or verbal notice from its representatives) to limit noise levels to dB levels even lower than those indicated above if, at IEG's sole and exclusive discretion, the noise level produced by various pieces of equipment or machinery belonging to the Participant in question is found to be harmful and/or otherwise disruptive to the activities of other operators in the vicinity. Noise level measurements, using a sound level meter, will be taken along the perimeter of the stand by personnel authorized by IEG.

6.4 In the event of non-compliance with the above provisions, including a failure to comply with any order to reduce noise levels to dB levels even lower than those indicated above, non-compliant Participants will be liable for the following:

A) for a first infringement confirmed by IEG, a verbal warning;

B) for a second infringement confirmed by IEG, a written warning;

C) from the third infringement onwards, IEG reserves the right to interrupt the power supply to the sound system, without the exhibiting company being entitled to any refunds or compensation of any kind. The interruption of the power supply to the sound system will occur with 15 minutes' notice and may last for a period to be determined at the Organizer's sole discretion.

If Participants fail to submit the appropriate requests/forms for installing and using sound systems, the Organizer reserves the right to interrupt the power supply to the sound system, regardless of whether or not the aforementioned sound limits have been exceeded (80 dB(A) for Lex,8h and 110 dB(C) for Lpeak). The Organizer also reserves the right to take the most appropriate form of legal action to seek compensation for the damage suffered, given that this constitutes a serious breach of contract. Italian Exhibition Group will not be liable for any damage, of any nature or kind, incurred by the exhibiting company and/or harm to the material on display as a result of the penalties applied in the event of non-compliance with the provisions of this article. Without prejudice to the above provisions, Italian Exhibition Group cannot be held liable in any way in the event that any other unlawful conduct by an Participant results in damage to other operators. Any such disputes must be resolved directly between the Participants themselves, exempting Italian Exhibition Group from any obligation and/or liability.

Art. 7- PROTECTION OF PERSONAL DIGNITY, RESPECT AND DECORUM OF THE EVENT

Participants, as well as any parties appointed or authorized by them, including suppliers, are required to design exhibits, services, promotional activities, performances, communications, and initiatives in compliance with the principles of personal dignity, cultural pluralism, and the common sense of decorum.

- gender identity, sexual orientation, or personal conditions;
- ethnic groups, nationalities, cultures, or racial backgrounds;
- social categories or people with disabilities;
- any other element protected by the principles of respect, inclusion, and non-discrimination.

Furthermore, any activities or representations that, due to their methods, symbolism, or content, may prejudice the image of the event, cause public disturbance, or compromise the safety and serenity of the event are prohibited.

The Organizer reserves the sole and final right to assess the compliance of exhibits and activities with these principles and, where necessary, to demand immediate modifications, suspend activities, or order the removal of non-compliant elements, without this giving rise to any right to compensation or reimbursement of any kind.

Any violation of this article may result, in addition to the measures set forth in the preceding paragraph, in the termination of the contract pursuant to Art. 1456 of the Italian Civil Code, as well as compensation for all damages, including reputational damage, suffered by the Organizer.
